

Cindy was born and raised in Cowlitz county. She graduated from Kalama High School and Portland State University with a degree in Business Administration with a concentration in Accounting. She practiced as a CPA in Cowlitz County in the public and private arenas for 30 years. She is married and has a grown son who is currently finishing work on a master's degree in education. You will also see his writing featured in the sports section of the Daily News.

She previously served on the boards of CASA and Parents Place.

In retirement, she enjoys reading, counted cross stitch, and traveling.

She is looking forward to contributing her time and talents to this wonderful cause.